NGRHS Community / School Garden

As part of New Germany Rural High School's School Improvement plan a group of educators have joined together to establish a community/school garden. Our goal is to create a sustainable and accessible garden for all staff, students, and community to enjoy. It is our hope that through the development of the garden, students will be engaged in a communal project which in turn will teach them meaningful life skills and allow for curriculum outcomes to be met.

We are a small rural school and hope to use this project as a way to build community relationships, citizenship, and encourage student engagement. Agriculture plays a large role and impacts many families in this area and a garden will help to teach sustainable living and personal empowerment.

The garden will allow for the following learning opportunities:

- Daily living skills, cooking, nutrition, development of citizenship skills, healthy options for the cafeteria, inquiry- based learning, cross-curricular learning, inter-disciplinary learning, hands-on learning, mentoring opportunities, and access for special needs students.

- It will also help to teach students about native species and how to sustain life within their rural community.

The garden has been tilled and students have started seedlings, but we need your help. Looking ahead to the future of our garden, we will need volunteers to care for the garden over the months of July and August. This would involve weeding, watering and harvesting. Benefits include the fruits of the harvest! It is also a great way for students to get volunteer hours while fostering an appreciation for gardening!

New Germany Garden Club

I was out for a little wander through the yard to see what was doing in the garden. Flower colors are so vibrant on dark rainy days. We have had very vibrant gardens this Spring, don't you think? Smudge, the grey cat, was traveling with me this particular morning. A very fast moving buzzing something approach from behind missing us by inches. It sounded like a very large bumble bee, but once he passed by I could see he was a humming bird. He probably didn't see us on his way to the quince in full bloom. They're back! And none the worst for wear it would seem after their incredibly long journey from South America. Why do they travel so far? How do they do it? We may want answers but we're not getting any. Hummingbirds are busy!

Here is a perennial garden tip (a little garden humour there). You and I like our salad fresh and crisp. Soil organisms will take them any way they can get them. Throw all your plant waste in a pile and it will be a great big salad for micro-organisms. Throw all your woody plant waste into another pile and it will be a salad for microorganisms. It will take longer for the wood to decompose but it will decompose. When you leave grass clippings on the lawn, it's microorganism salad. When you put leaves around shrubs, it's microorganism salad. Once they have finished eating and have finished digesting they do what we all do, they poop. This fertilizer is "food" for plants and so it goes around again, more microorganism salad.

The New Germany Garden Club met May 23rd at NGRHS. We made plans to put flowers in the planters and by the Welcome to New Germany sign in June. We will have a bulb sale this Fall to support our projects. The grand finish for our meeting was a plant exchange between members. We swapped herbs, annuals, perennials and shrubs. Off we went with exciting new plants to try in our gardens. Summer meetings will be garden tours. Please contact our President Lynn @ 298-9277 for more information.

As we head into the busiest gardening time of year my wish to you is, as always, Happy Gardening.

Health and Welfare Questions

The New Germany and Area Lions Club receives great community support for our projects and work hard to ensure the public that we are appropriately dispersing moneys to fund programs and services within our club boundaries.

We are unable to fund non-essential services such as call display and call waiting, nor do we provide tobacco, alcohol or pet food and supplies. These are just a few of the expenses that households could examine when trying to reduce their bills to make ends meet. Our Health and Welfare Committee tries to respond to emergency services. If you are fortunate to receive assistance from our organization, please realize that there are many other projects and programs that need our financial support and we unfortunately cannot provide monthly stipends.

If you ever find yourself or family in an emergency situation, please contact us. We are here to help.

Talent and Compassion, A Great Combination.

Dogs became an integral part of Lorraine's life since she took in her first rescue in the 1990's. Since then dogs who need a second chance are accepted into Lorraine's home after a weeks trial. These canines are nurtured, receive some training, and are spayed/neutered as required. When these animals are ready they are found a loving forever home.

In addition, this energetic lady brings her dog Lily to the Rosedale home. Evidently Lily, a Poodle mix, takes her job seriously. She is calm and friendly with the residence and brings many smiles.

Along with her commitment to rescue and visiting the elderly, Lorraine is involved with agility. Her participation in agility occurred when her Lab/Golden mix needed more stimulation. Since then she assists to train these dogs in this sport. Members of this group come both for fun and to practice for competition. Dogs who are introduced to agility learn the different pieces of equipment over a course of 6 weeks. As the dogs learn the equipment, Lorraine ensures that they are safe and having fun.

Lorraine feels that it is important for youth to know what is involved in owning a dog. During her 7-year participation with the 4H club, she educated the young people on this topic. She provided information about grooming, feeding, exercising and care of the canine. She was able to illustrate that owning a dog takes responsibility and commitment.

Lorraine is a definite asset to the dogs of Lunenburg county. Her obvious love and enthusiasm go a long way.

Connections Reflections with:

Ella "Marie" Snyder

As told to Alice Wile

Ella Marie was born into the Baptist family of Ella and Adam Webber on August 18, 1924. The youngest child in a family of eleven, only three of her siblings remain living at the time of this interview. "Marie" as she is known by all, remembers her dad as a hard working farmer who owned the farm she and her siblings grew up on in Scarsdale. She remembers, being a strict religious family, there was no working or schoolwork on Sunday. Sunday church services were held twice monthly in the school house across the road, and on those days the minister would come to dinner. Everyone had to be on their best behaviour. She remembers the children were given each a penny for the Sunday School collection plate.

Marie remembers they slept on straw ticks and feather pillows. Cold nights were made cozy with sheep's wool comforters.

Marie preferred the outdoors and helped her father on the farm, gathering eggs, feeding the cows, chickens and pigs. She remembers she easily carried bags of feed and buckets of water up two flights of stairs to feed the chickens. Farm chores left little time for play or fun, but Marie says when there was time she liked to skate, coast and ski. Her best friend was her cousin Phyllis Mossman who lived on the 'other hill'. Dancing was a forbidden activity for the Webber family, but Marie admits that sometimes she and Phyllis would sneak out to Angus Halls on Saturday night to attend a dance. This was a three mile walk for the girls, but she says there were no shortage of boys willing to drive them home.

As a prank on Halloween, Marie says they would fasten a fish hook and line to a neighbours window and "rosin" the line. Rubbing over the line then created an eerie screech. She says they never did anything destructive or harmful.

Marie's dad kept many hens and peddled eggs to locations as far away as Liverpool. Marie remembers these trips and at one time had to make the trip by herself. This part of the farming business came to a crashing close when one night on his way home from the sap woods in Elmwood, Adam noticed that a brooder house was on fire. Nothing could be saved.

Marie says that for her help on the farm she was paid 25 cents a day. She recalls her mom was a good hearted person who knit, crocheted, hooked rugs and made quilts. Marie recalls her teacher at school taught her to crochet and embroider during recess.

The little school house in Scarsdale was the location for Marie's education to grade 10. At the age of 17 she went to the Agricultural College in Truro and took a three week course in egg grading. Upon her return home she received employment with the New Germany Fruit Co., which is where she eventually met the son of Archibald and Jenny Snyder. Carrol was a truck driver for Gifford Whalen and frequently picked up eggs at the Fruit Co., for shipment to Halifax. It was during these egg pick ups that the love bug paid a visit. A brief courtship ensued and in 1944 Marie and Carrol started their life together.

At first they lived with Marie's parents, but later moved in with Carrol's aunt Liddy and Uncle Amiel Lohnes. Since they were in poor health, the young couple proved to be of great help to them. Twenty six years later Carrol and Marie moved to Barss Corner into a home bought from Percy Oickle. While in Watford, Carrol had built up a meat cutting business, but since there was not an appropriate building at the new residence to continue, the meat shop in Watford was moved to Barss Corner and Carrol continued as a meat cutter.

Marie and Carrol raised seven children, six girls and one boy whose names all begin with "L". She says that back then life was hard, there was always work to be done, but they were happy. She boasts of twenty plus grandchildren and has three great, great, great, grandchildren.

Public Health Update

Enjoy the woods safely this summer,
protect yourself from Blacklegged Ticks

Lyme disease is an infection transmitted to humans and pets by a bite from a Blacklegged Tick (aka deer tick) that carries the infection. Here are some tips to help protect your family:

- 1.) Cover your skin as much as possible
- 2.) Wear bug repellent containing DEET (do not use DEET on children under 6 months)
- 3.) Check yourself, your family, and your pets following outdoor activities

For information on deer ticks and how to prevent Lyme disease please visit the following website:

Reconnecting...

In this issue of Connections we are starting a new feature where we catch up with former residents of this area. Do you know someone we might feature? Please get in touch (contact info on page 16).

An update from Marion McFadden, who lived in New Germany with her husband Don from 1998 to 2002.

When asked to write this for the newsletter as a way to stay in touch with folks in the New Germany area, my first thought was, "Where do I begin?" Maybe at the beginning, so here goes!

The day that Don and I moved to New Germany we each drove our own vehicle. When we turned off the 103 Highway onto the #10 Highway, Don pulled over, stopped and I followed. He then got out of his vehicle and came back to mine and said, "Are we really doing this?" I'm not sure what I said, but it must have been yes!

Don had never had a Pastoral Charge of his own and I had never officially been a minister's wife. We were both terrified. Thanks to the many wonderful people of New Germany and surrounding area we were made to feel very welcome and accepted.

Sadly, our time in New Germany was fairly short. Not quite four years. I have so many fond memories of New Germany and good friends made there. I try to keep in touch with them, sometimes only at Christmas, but the ties will always be there for me.

I am still living on the farm in the Stewiacke area where Don and I raised our children. I don't have any farm animals, just a cat and lots of wildlife around. I'm still going to the little church where I taught Sunday School, but I am not involved with as many committees as I used to be. Our children were all Baptised, Confirmed, etc. there. I sometimes go to another church where my daughter teaches Sunday School and her three children are involved. Usually when the Sunday School children are doing a special service I like to attend and on Christmas Eve with both daughters and their families.

I keep busy around the property, still plant a vegetable garden which I keep trying to make smaller, but usually have vegetables to give away so I guess I haven't succeeded yet! I also have flower gardens and mow a big lawn, which I will have to make smaller some day, but not yet. It looks so nice all mowed!

I have done a bit of travelling in the last ten years. The biggest trip was to Cuba in 2006. A friend and I have done some camping and a lot of day trips, mostly around NS. We have also camped in PEI and Cape Breton. I went on a Bus trip to Bangor and area in Nov 2011 and another one in April to the Portland area. I try to make two or three week long trips to NB during the year to visit family.

The winter is a quieter time. I try to get a lot of knitting and crafts, etc made. I usually do two craft sales in the Fall. I enjoy reading too and sometimes do more reading than knitting!

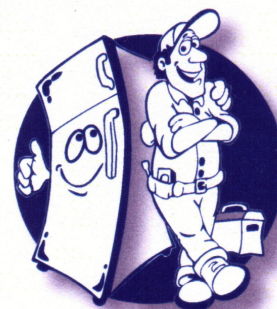

I am starting to think about tilling up my garden and what and where I will plant and also how I will make it smaller. I am also getting my Spring homesickness for NB and the St John River in high water, so a trip to NB is in the near future!

I spend as much time as I can with my daughters, Megan and Erin, and my grandchildren. They all have busy lives so sometimes I don't see them as much as I like. Megan works mornings at a pre-school and has three children, Ben, Emma, and Danielle. She also has a dog, a cat, and three goats with two more on the way! Erin is head coach for a Gymnastics Club and her son, Liam, is also involved.

The grandchildren are growing up way too fast! I have two teenagers and the youngest is 8.

This pretty much catches up on the last 10 years of my life, since I left New Germany. As I have said before, I will always have very fond memories of New Germany and its' people. I miss not being able to walk to the Bank, Post Office and stores. I can't do that here, but I can walk the fields and woods, which I love!

I feel blessed to have been able to share my life with so many people and I hope I can do a lot more of that!
